Summary of the Board’s Decision

[1] The Respondent failed to provide a record of work on completion of restricted building work. He is fined $1,000 and ordered to pay costs of $500. The fine was reduced on the basis that after a Draft Decision was issued, the Respondent provided a record of work. The disciplinary finding will be recorded on the public Register for a period of three years.

The Charges

[2] The prescribed investigation and hearing procedure is inquisitorial, not adversarial. There is no requirement for a complainant to prove the allegations. The Board sets the charges and decides what evidence is required.<sup>1</sup>

[3] In this matter, the disciplinary charges the Board resolved to further investigate<sup>2</sup> were that the Respondent may, in relation to building work at [OMITTED], Wellington, have failed, without good reason, in respect of a building consent that

<sup>1</sup> Under section 322 of the Act, the Board has relaxed rules of evidence which allow it to receive evidence that may not be admissible in a court of law. The evidentiary standard is the balance of probabilities, Z v Dental Complaints Assessment Committee [2009] 1 NZLR 1.

<sup>2</sup> The resolution was made following the Board’s consideration of a report prepared by the Registrar in accordance with regulation 10 of the Complaints Regulations.

relates to restricted building work that he or she is to carry out or supervise, or has carried out or supervised, (as the case may be), to provide the persons specified in section 88(2) with a record of work, on completion of the restricted building work, in accordance with section 88(1) of the Act contrary to section 317(1)(da)(ii) of the Act.

Draft Decision Process

- [4] The Board’s jurisdiction is that of an inquiry. Complaints are not prosecuted before the Board. Rather, it is for the Board to carry out any further investigation that it considers necessary prior to it making a decision.
- [5] Ordinarily, the Board makes a decision having held a hearing.<sup>3</sup> The Board may, however, depart from its normal procedures if it considers doing so would achieve the purposes of the Act, and it is not contrary to the interests of natural justice to do so.<sup>4</sup>
- [6] In this instance, the Board decided that a formal hearing was not necessary. The Board considered that there was sufficient evidence before it to allow it to make a decision on the papers. It noted, however, that there may have been further evidence in relation to the matter that the Board was not aware of. To that end, it issued a Draft Decision. The Respondent was provided with an opportunity to comment on the draft findings and to present further evidence prior to the Board making a final decision. The Board further noted that if the Respondent requested an in-person hearing, then the Draft Decision would be set aside, and a hearing would be scheduled.

Evidence

- [7] The Board must be satisfied on the balance of probabilities that the disciplinary offences alleged have been committed<sup>5</sup>. Under section 322 of the Act, the Board has relaxed rules of evidence which allow it to receive evidence that may not be admissible in a court of law.

Failure to Provide a Record of Work

- [8] A Licensed Building Practitioner must provide a record of work for any restricted building work that they have carried out or supervised to the owner and the Territorial Authority on completion of their restricted building work.<sup>6</sup>
- [9] There is a statutory requirement under section 88(1) of the Building Act 2004 for a licensed building practitioner to provide a record of work to the owner and the

<sup>4</sup> Under Clause 27 of Schedule 3 the Board may regulate its own procedure and it has summary jurisdiction, which allows for a degree of flexibility in how it deals with matters: Castles v Standards Committee No. [2013] NZHC 2289, Orlov v National Standards Committee 1 [2013] NZHC 1955

territorial authority on completion of restricted building work<sup>7</sup> unless there is a good reason for it not to be provided.<sup>8</sup>

Did the Respondent carry out or supervise restricted building work?

- [10] The Respondent was a subcontractor to [OMITTED], which was engaged by the Complainant to construct a new 2 storey house. The Respondent supervised the blocklaying work of 6 employees on the site.
- [11] The blocklaying work carried out was the construction of a primary structure of a house, pursuant to a building consent. As such, it meets the definitional requirements under the Regulations<sup>9</sup> and is therefore restricted building work.

Was the restricted building work complete?

- [12] The Respondent advised that the work was carried out in November 2022, with the invoice for the work being rendered in December 2022. The restricted building work was, therefore, complete in November 2022.

Has the Respondent provided a record of work?

- [13] The Respondent acknowledged that he had not provided a record of work, and a review of the Council file on 8 June 2023 and again on 19 July 2023, confirmed that no record of work from the Respondent was on the file.

Was there a good reason?

- [14] The main contractor, [OMITTED], has been placed in liquidation. The evidence provided to the Board shows that the Complainant has paid the main contractor but that the payment has not been passed on to the Respondent. This has left the Respondent unpaid and asking for that payment before he will release the record of work.
- [15] He stated to the Complainant, "I am able to provide the record of work documents...after payment" and to the Investigator "I just want to note that I'm not holding back the ROW out of spite, I'm wanting to see where my money is. He will get his paperwork."
- [16] Although the Respondent finds himself in a difficult position through no fault of his own, it is a statutory requirement to provide the record of work. The Board has repeatedly stated that a Record of Work is a statutory requirement, not a negotiable term of a contract. The requirement for it is not affected by the terms of a contract, nor by contractual disputes. Licensed building practitioners should now be aware of their obligations to provide them, and their provision should be a matter of routine.

- [17] Accordingly, the Board finds that there was no good reason for failing to provide the record of work.

Did the Respondent fail to provide a record of work?

- [18] The Respondent's restricted building work was complete in November 2022, and as of July 2023, he had not provided a record of work to the homeowner or the Territorial Authority. As such, he has failed to meet his statutory obligation to provide a record of work.

Further Evidence and Submissions Received

- [19] Following the Board issuing a Draft Decision, it received advice from the Complainant that a record of work had, since the Draft Decision was issued, been provided.

- [20] The Respondent also made a submission. He stated:

This has spiralled out of control. I told the owner I wasn't holding back his paperwork. Who do I send the ROW to now so I can get this over with?

I'm not the bad guy here and now I'm getting fined for this. I am now struggling to pay bills due to '[OMITTED]' going into liquidation taking me down in the process.

I've never not given anyone their ROW and even in this situation, I am just seeing where I stood with clients not paying.

I ask if the board can reverse this fine and I'll get the paperwork to whoever is necessary asap.

- [21] The Board has taken the above into account. It has not resulted in the Board making a different decision. It is still clear that payment issues were at the heart of the matter and that the Respondent does not understand his obligations as regards records of work. The reality is that, but for the complaint, the Complainant would not have a record of work.

- [22] The provision of a record of work following the complaint and this disciplinary process will be taken into account as a mitigating factor.

Board's Decision

- [23] The Respondent has failed to provide a record of work on completion of restricted building work.

Penalty, Costs and Publication

- [24] Having found that one or more of the grounds in section 317 applies, the Board must, under section 318 of the Act<sup>i</sup>, consider the appropriate disciplinary penalty, whether the Respondent should be ordered to pay any costs and whether the decision should be published.

[25] The matter was dealt with on the papers. The Board made an indicative order in its Draft Decision. It has since received submissions and has made a final decision as regards penalty, costs and publication.

Penalty

[26] The Board has the discretion to impose a range of penalties.<sup>ii</sup> Exercising that discretion and determining the appropriate penalty requires that the Board balance various factors, including the seriousness of the conduct and any mitigating or aggravating factors present.<sup>10</sup> It is not a formulaic exercise, but there are established underlying principles that the Board should take into consideration. They include:<sup>11</sup>

- (a) protection of the public and consideration of the purposes of the Act;<sup>12</sup>
- (b) deterring other Licensed Building Practitioners from similar offending;<sup>13</sup>
- (c) setting and enforcing a high standard of conduct for the industry;<sup>14</sup>
- (d) penalising wrongdoing;<sup>15</sup> and
- (e) rehabilitation (where appropriate).<sup>16</sup>

[27] Overall, the Board should assess the conduct against the range of penalty options available in section 318 of the Act, reserving the maximum penalty for the worst cases<sup>17</sup> and applying the least restrictive penalty available for the particular offending.<sup>18</sup> In all, the Board should be looking to impose a fair, reasonable, and proportionate penalty<sup>19</sup> that is consistent with other penalties imposed by the Board for comparable offending.<sup>20</sup>

[28] In general, when determining the appropriate penalty, the Board adopts a starting point based on the principles outlined above prior to it considering any aggravating and/or mitigating factors present.<sup>21</sup>

[29] Record of work matters are at the lower end of the disciplinary scale. The Board's normal starting point for a failure to provide a record of work is a fine of $1,500, an amount which it considers will deter others from such behaviour. There are no aggravating or mitigating factors present. In its Draft Decision, the Board stated it saw no reason to depart from the starting point, and it set the fine at $1,500.

- [30] The Respondent has now provided a record of work. The Board has taken that provision into account and has reduced the fine to $1,000. Complete reversal of the fine, as submitted, is not appropriate as it would not accord with the principals of imposing a penalty as set above.

Costs

- [31] Under section 318(4) of the Act, the Board may require the Respondent to pay the costs and expenses of, and incidental to, the inquiry by the Board. The rationale is that other Licensed Building Practitioners should not be left to carry the financial burden of an investigation and hearing.<sup>22</sup>
- [32] The courts have indicated that 50% of the total reasonable costs should be taken as a starting point in disciplinary proceedings<sup>23</sup>. The starting point can then be adjusted up or down, having regard to the particular circumstances of each case<sup>24</sup>.
- [33] The Board has adopted an approach to costs that uses a scale based on 50% of the average costs of different categories of hearings, simple, moderate, and complex. The current matter was simple. Adjustments are then made.
- [34] Based on the above, the Board's costs order is that the Respondent is to pay the sum of $500 toward the costs of and incidental to the Board's inquiry.

Publication

- [35] As a consequence of its decision, the Respondent's name and the disciplinary outcomes will be recorded in the public Register maintained as part of the Licensed Building Practitioners' scheme as is required by the Act,<sup>25</sup> and he will be named in this decision which will be available on the Board's website. The Board is also able, under section 318(5) of the Act, to order further publication.
- [36] Within New Zealand, there is a principle of open justice and open reporting, which is enshrined in the Bill of Rights Act 1990.<sup>26</sup> Further, as a general principle, publication may be required where the Board perceives a need for the public and/or the profession to know of the findings of a disciplinary hearing, and the courts have stated that an adverse finding in a disciplinary case usually requires that the name of the practitioner be published.<sup>27</sup>

Section 318 Order

[38] For the reasons set out above, the Board directs that:

Penalty: Pursuant to section 318(1)(f) of the Building Act 2004, the Respondent is ordered to pay a fine of $1,000.

Costs: Pursuant to section 318(4) of the Act, the Respondent is ordered to pay costs of $500 (GST included) towards the costs of, and incidental to, the inquiry of the Board.

Publication: The Registrar shall record the Board's action in the Register of Licensed Building Practitioners in accordance with section 301(l)(iii) of the Act.

In terms of section 318(5) of the Act, there will not be action taken to publicly notify the Board's action, except for the note in the Register and the Respondent being named in this decision, which will be publicly available on the Board's website.

[39] The Respondent should note that the Board may, under section 319 of the Act, suspend or cancel a licensed building practitioner's licence if fines or costs imposed as a result of disciplinary action are not paid.

Right of Appeal

[40] The right to appeal Board decisions is provided for in section 330(2) of the Act<sup>iii</sup>.
